A Vacation Traveling Tip

Many Credit Union members love the convenience of the Credit Union Debit Card, but when traveling be sure to carry a second source of payment. There are times when your debit card may not work due to loss of the card, system problems, fraud detection, or the daily purchase limit.

Some car rentals, hotels, and other vendors may hold additional money against your card limiting other items you can purchase because of the daily limit. A second source of payment, like the Credit Union Credit Card, is a great idea to carry when traveling.

Always notify the Credit Union when you are traveling in order to avoid Credit Union Debit Card issues due to fraud detection or fraud prevention.
